

Report to AARMS on
The 37th Science Atlantic Math/Stat/CS Conference
MSCS 2014

The 37th Science Atlantic Math/Stat/CS Conference was held at the University of New Brunswick, Saint John, and initially scheduled for October 3-5, 2014. A Sunday session on Modelling and Simulation was initially scheduled, but we ended up accommodating all talks on Saturday, October 4, 2014.

Participants:

The Conference attracted 171 participants (99 undergraduate students, 17 graduate students, 48 faculty members, 2 teachers and 5 retired faculty). The main focus of the conference is the encouragement of undergraduate students to present their research work under the guidance of faculty members, and writing team competitions. For the Mathematics and Statistics part of the conference, there were 18 official teams that participated in the Mathematics Problem Solving Competition. For the Computer Science part of the conference, there were 17 official teams that participated in the Programming Competition.

Research Talks:

The 34 research talks at the conference included 4 undergraduate Statistics talks, 4 undergraduate Computer Science talks, and 15 undergraduate Mathematics talks. There were 11 contributed talks, 4 of them were in Computer Science and 7 in Mathematics, Statistics (with 1 talk in Statistics Education).

Conference schedule of talks, abstracts, and other details can be found in the conference booklet, appended to this report.

Invited Speakers:

The following represented our invited speakers in Statistics, Mathematics and Computer Science, respectively:

1) Field's Lecture:

Dr. Erica Moodie, Department of Epidemiology, Biostatistics, and Occupational Health, McGill University
Title: Dynamic treatment regimens: Quantitative tools for the personalization of medicine

2) Blundon Lecture:

Dr. John Grant McLoughlin, UNB-Fredericton, Faculty of Education
Title: Mathematical Problem Solving

3) Sedgewick Lecture:

Dr. Manuela Veloso, (Herbert A. Simon Professor, Computer Science Department, Carnegie Mellon University
Title: Symbiotic Autonomy: Robots, Humans, and the Web

Prizes:

There were prizes for the Best Paper Presentations in each discipline, and prizes for the top three competition team winners, as listed in APPENDIX 1 at the end of this report.

Conference Support:

The conference was supported by generously by many sponsors, including Science Atlantic, AARMS, University of New Brunswick, Saint John, and a number of local, regional and national organizations. A list of sponsors can be found in APPENDIX 2, at the end of this report.

Conference Bag and Name Tags:

A conference bag was designed with the logos of AARMS, Science Atlantic and UNB Saint John (Appended with this report). In addition, name tags and banquet tickets were designed with the three logos.

Student Travel Support: We had estimated student travel at around $5400. This final amount will depend on AARMS support.

Plaque Update: In light of future conferences being a joint effort between Science Atlantic and AARMS, we need to update the student award plaque to reflect this change.

Contributions from UNB:

Vice President (Saint John), Dean's Office, Depts. CSAS & Math Sci provided:

Saturday lunch; 200 USB's; Speakers' Honoraria; Incidentals

Student Representative Council provided student pizzas

Chartwell's Food Services provided 10% discount on their food & reception + 200 pens
